

Full/part time position posted on behalf of Joanna Ball PhD

Joanna Ball, Ph.D. is an independent clinical psychologist in Westchester County, NY and is seeking a part-time or full-time postdoctoral psychology fellow or licensed psychologist who has been trained in treating children, adolescents, and adults. The practice is located in Tarrytown, NY and shares a newly-renovated suite with a well-respected child-adolescent psychiatrist in addition to another psychologist with whom regular collaboration takes place. Dr. Ball has a large referral base across Westchester County, will be able to offer a candidate a regular referral flow, and will provide weekly individual supervision as well as offer additional weekly participation in an interdisciplinary peer supervision group. Clinical services the candidate would be expected to provide include individual psychotherapy, family psychotherapy, couples therapy, parent consultation, group psychotherapy, and comprehensive clinical evaluations, as appropriate. Evidenced based treatments will be the primary approach used for psychotherapeutic intervention, within the context of a larger family / systems approach, for a myriad of psychological and psychiatric conditions in children, adolescents, and adults. Applicants should be interested in working collaboratively across disciplines, readily engaging in outside consultation with schools and related agencies, and comprehensively working towards improvement of family mental health. Start date can be flexible between July and September 2017. Applicants should have graduate training from an APA accredited program. Interested applicants should email the following materials to Dr. Joanna Ball (jballphd@gmail.com): a) a cover letter detailing your experience and training in evidence-based therapies, and your specific interest/fit with our practice, b) your curriculum vitae, c) a list of 3 professional references with email and phone contact information, d) additional formal letters of recommendation are welcome (from the references above or others), but not immediately required to apply.
